

translatable 4

Hosted by Peter Burian, Christophe Fricker, & Erdağ Göknar

Supported by the Department of Germanic Languages and Literature and by the Duke University Center for International Studies.

The Translator's Presence

Or: Does Michael Hofmann Make Everyone Sound Like Michael Hofmann?

Michael Hofmann, University of Florida

Thursday, Apr 10, 2008, 5pm,
Breedlove Room, Perkins Library

Professor Hofmann has translated more than thirty books from the German, mainly novels, including works by Ernst Jünger, Franz Kafka, Wolfgang Koeppen, Joseph Roth, and Wim Wenders.

For his translations he has won the IMPAC Dublin Literary Award, the P.E.N./Book of the Month Club Translation Prize, and the Helen and Kurt Wolff Translator's Prize.